Paul Davis Restoration launches holiday toy drive to benefit Operation Breakthrough

Kansas City, Mo. – November 28, 2011 – Paul Davis Restoration of Kansas City has launched a holiday toy drive, community service initiative to benefit Operation Breakthrough. The restoration firm is currently delivering wrapped collection boxes to local insurance agencies and will be picking up boxes filled with donated toys until December 15. According to Jacquie Norwood, Paul Davis' Marketing Director, anyone can donate toys at the local collection sites including office agents and employees, customers and the general public.

All donations go to Operation Breakthrough, the largest single-site child care center in the state of Missouri –caring for more than 500 children daily with 89 percent of enrolled children from families living below the poverty level. Operation Breakthrough is located at 3039 Troost Avenue in Kansas City, Mo. Visit the website at www.operationbreakthrough.org.

Norwood encourages participation in the program to help local children who are in need during the holidays and year round. Items are accepted for all ages and must be new merchandise such as toys, personal grooming items, school supplies, arts and crafts materials, and clothing, among others.

“We look forward to helping those in need. Paul Davis continues to actively participate in programs to support the development of our most valuable resources – our children and families,” said Norwood. “This is a perfect opportunity to unite all members of the local and professional communities in a common cause during this holiday collection effort,” she said.
