Paul Davis Restoration and Remodeling hosts 12th annual golf event for American Red Cross

Ft. Wayne, IN – October 3, 2011 – Paul Davis Restoration and Remodeling of Northeast Indiana recently hosted its 12th annual charity golf event and silent auction to benefit the American Red Cross of Northeast Indiana. The event was held on September 15 at Noble Hawk Golf Links in Kendallville. The cost to play in the golf outing included a $45 donation to the American Red Cross or a pint of blood. More than 120 golfers and participants attended the event. Since the event's inception, more than $44,000 in cash and 750 pints of blood have been collected from golf event participants which has helped approximately 3,000 people.

“Each year, we look forward to hosting the charity event. It's a great way to have fun for an important cause,” said Dan Leffers, president of the Paul Davis office. According to Leffers, his company's goal is to help the American Red Cross with their work to make a significant difference in the blood bank totals in the region along with the organization's numerous programs to help victims of disaster.

Initially, Leffers was looking for a way to give back to the community. Since the company restores homes damaged by fire, there are instances when property owners have sustained burn injuries. Leffers concluded there was a natural connection between the Red Cross and Paul Davis as both entities strive to help victims of fire. In conjunction with the local insurance industry including agents and adjusters, Paul Davis holds the golf outing exclusively for those involved in the insurance field while providing industry professionals an opportunity to give to those in need.

“We are grateful to those who participated with their donations of blood or cash. We would also like to thank all of our event sponsors for contributing to this great cause,” said Leffers.

“We appreciate Paul Davis' generosity. They work so hard to make this fundraiser a success. The need for blood is so great,” said Kathy Workinger, donor recruitment representative for Indiana-Ohio Region of the American Red Cross Blood Services. Workinger explained that due to the monetary and blood donations, local individuals and families will have a second chance to survive.
