Paul Davis Restoration office owner wins $500 gift card and donates back to charity food bank
- Company gives an additional $300 to non-profit in need -

Bremerton, WA – September 26, 2011 - Paul Davis Restoration of Olympic Peninsula office owner Tammy Heuser, has donated a $500 VISA Gift Card back to the South Kitsap Helpline, after she contributed $5 to the local food bank at a raffle drawing which took place at Fred Meyers grocery store in Bremerton. Heuser and Helpline staff conversed about the non-profit's needs for funds and enjoyed a chuckle that if and when Heuser wins the raffle, then she would donate the winning gift card back to the organization.

The South Kitsap Helpline is non-profit organization based in Port Orchard, WA and serves South Kitsap children, adults and senior citizens in need since 1980. Helpline provides food and other assistance, and referrals to members of the community who find themselves in crisis.

"In addition to the gift card donation back to the Helpline, we contributed $300 to help the worthy organization," said Heuser. "It's God's money, so this is an appropriate way to help those in need in our community," she said.

Paul Davis Restoration of Olympic Peninsula is located in Olympic View Industrial Park, near Hwy. 3 and across from the Port of Bremerton. The company was established in 2007 by John Elliott, and Ray and Tammy Heuser. The owners are all local residents and attribute the company's success to highly specialized training and services in emergency mitigation, restoration and remodeling.

Paul Davis technicians hold certifications from the Institute of Inspection, Cleaning, Restoration and Certification (IICRC) in water and fire damage restoration, and fire and smoke remediation along with certifications in Advanced Structural Drying (ASD) and contents restoration.
