Paul Davis Restoration donates Thanksgiving dinners to local families in need

Hainesport, NJ – November 29, 2010 – Bill Elliott, Paul Davis office owner, has donated Thanksgiving dinners to local families in need in coordination with the Lumberton Township Police Department in Lumberton, NJ. According to Elliott, on November 20 his employees helped to purchase and provide local law enforcement with the dinners for delivery to four families in the Lumberton area.

“During the holidays, families struggle to make ends meet. Paul Davis Restoration of Southern New Jersey gives back to the community annually by providing the full Thanksgiving dinners for local residents,” said Elliott. “We are honored to work with the Lumberton Township Police Department each year on this project,” he said.

Elliott’s office donates professional restoration services and assistance to organizations throughout the state as part of the company’s community service initiative including the New Jersey Firefighter’s Mutual Benevolent Association (NJFMBA), and organization’s efforts to help Autism New Jersey and Eden Autism Services. Elliott’s company also provides donated services to the NJFMBA for Saint Barnabas Burn Foundation’s The Children’s Burn Camp in Union, CT.
